

Front-End Developer 🖐️

Hi! I am Laizel Rodríguez, A first year computer systems engineering student starting out my frond-end journey !

About me

I am a computer systems engineering student who just finished my first year from Middlesex University, Dubai. I have learned HTML, CSS, JavaScript and React so far. My goal is to be able to create websites with different looks and visuals and to make interactive websites.

Projects

Code Hub - An online learning platform where you can learn various coding languages

This is my project I am proud of, Its not the best but I managed to build it myself and I think I did great as its my first website:)
